Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good;" and Doctor Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine it is unequaled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equaled.

MARRIAGE ANNULLED.

The marriage of Miss Helen Maloney, of Philadelphia, to Arthur H. Osborne, a young stock broker of New York, was annulled yesterday by order of Justice McCall, of the Supreme Court of New York, who affirmed the findings of a referee appointed to take evidence in the case. Miss Maloney is the daughter of Martin Maloney, a wealthy resident of Philadelphia, upon whom the title of marquis was conferred by the pope.

The young woman went through a marriage ceremony with Mr. Osborne before a justice of the peace in Mamaroneck, N. Y., in December, 1905, during which she gave the name of Helen Eugenie and Mr. Osborne gave the name of Herbert Ogden. There were two witnesses to the ceremony. After the marriage the two returned to their homes, and Miss Maloney lived with her parents for a long time without the escapade becoming known.

In October, 1907, she eloped with Samuel Clarkson, a young Englishman, and they were married in Montreal. The couple went to England apparently without the knowledge of Miss Maloney's friends, and for a few weeks an active search for her was kept up by representatives of her family. As soon as her disappearance became known Mr. Osborne notified Mr. Maloney of the ceremony which had taken place two years before. Both Mr. Clarkson and his wife returned to this country a number of weeks ago, and proceedings were instituted in behalf of the Maloney family to annul the marriage to Osborne. Mr. Osborne did not contest the action, but put the facts before the referee. That official recommended to the court that the marriage be annulled, and yesterday Justice McCall affirmed that finding. The decree is interlocutory and does not become final for three months. The evidence was not made public.

DEATH FROM RABIES.

William H. Marsh, of Brooklyn, who was infected with rabies when he dressed the wound of a pet bulldog, died at 5:30 p. m. yesterday.

For twenty-four hours the patient, who tossed and turned on his bed, suffered a double torture. Dr Henry M. Cullinan, the physician who has been in close attendance upon Mr. Marsh since first he went home with the knowledge that death was coming to him, said yesterday that Mr. Marsh had been able to follow step by step the course of the disease through knowledge he once acquired in a full course in medicine he had taken. Like a man sitting in the condemned cell and listening to the striking of the clock that brings the dawn nearer, Mr. Marsh diagnosed the advance of the plague during his periods of consciousness.

A woman called at the house early in the morning to say she was a Christian Scientist, and that she could speedily relieve Mr. Marsh of the temporary hallucination he had. She was shaken off only after treats were made to call a policeman.

Telegrams came from Chicago, San Francisco, and places nearer home, all containing some recommendation of a patent nostrum which it was claimed would cure rabis. Dr. Fiske, who was called in consultation, said of the unusual aspects of Mr. Marsh's case:

"The only way we can account for the infection Mr. Marsh received was that it was through a small sore spot on his thigh. At the time that he dressed the wound he found on the side of his dog he had a small spot of eczema, and since there was no abrasion on his hands at that time, he is certain it must have been that infection was transferred through his finger nails when he scratched the sore spot on his thigh."

PRAYED FOR HIS MURDERER.

With the last breath of his life Henry Abel pleaded for the life of the man who shot him down because he had attempted to act as peacemaker in a fight between two well-known citizens of Asheville, N. C. His dying request was that no action be taken against his assailant. "I have forgiven him," he murmured, "and I pray God that He may forgive him, and that he may go a free man."

Abel was shot a few nights ago by David L. Boyd, representative from Haywood county in the North Carolina legislature, during a street fight between a man named Leatherwood and a nephew of Boyd. Abel tried to part the two men, which enraged Boyd, who remonstrated with him to let them "fight it out." Abel persisted in his efforts of peacemaker when Boyd drew a revolver and shot him twice.

Boyd escaped, and it was reported he had fled the State and crossed over the Tennessee line into the mountains, but he later returned and gave himself up. He was placed under a $40,000 bond, which he gave, but with the death of Abel has been locked up. Abel sent for Boyd, and Boyd was at Abel's bedside when he died. He was visibly affected and on his knees asked Abel for forgiveness. Abel was formerly chief of police of Waynesville, N. C.

MILITIA MUST IMPROVE.

Upon the recommendation of Assistant Inspector-General Jo Lane Stern, of Richmond, Companies C, of Newport News; D, of Hampton, and I, of Franklin, all of the Seventy-first Virginia Regiment, are ordered to assemble for inspection within sixty days with reference to disbandment unless they shall have the minimum number of men and otherwise fulfill the requirements of efficiency, according to law.

Should these companies be disbanded there would be only seven companies remaining in the Seventy-first Virginia Regiment. These are the three companies in Norfolk, two in Portsmouth and one each in Suffolk and Emporia.

At the time of the inspection by Colonel Stern of Companies C, of Newport News, and D, of Hampton, these companies were much run down. Both were without a captain. Since that time the companies have elected captains and are now in better condition than in the last three years. There seems to be no fear that these companies will be disbanded.

KILLED DOG THAT SAVED SON.

The little 4-year old son of Mr. and Mr. J. W. McAllister of Quenton Va., on Saturday tumbled into a creek, where he would surely have drowned but for his setter dog, Leo, who plunged into the stream and dragged him to land. Then, wet and foaming at the mouth from exertion, the animal ran home seeking assistance for the lad. Leo sprang upon Mrs. McAllister, pulling and tugging at her garments in an effort to induce her to follow him. The woman and her husband jumped to the conclusion that the dog was mad, and Mr. McAllister struck him over the head with a club, cracking his skull. The dog, even with his broken head, succeeded in leading McAllister to the side of the half drowned boy, after which he crawled off into the weeds and died.

MRS. LANGTRY GOOD BETTOR.

Lady de Bathe, better known as Mrs. Langtry, is having remarkable success with her new play adapted from the French, "A Fearful Joy," in which she represents an intriguing woman consumed with fear of compromising herself. She never acted so well before.

King Edward went to see her the second night after his return from the continent, and between the acts he summoned her to his box to receive his personal congratulations. She divides her time between acting and racing. She is always seen at the race tracks within 20 miles of London. She gets excellent "tips" from many big turfites and often makes coups in the betting ring.

She has the gift of making money, and is said to be now worth more than $2,500,000.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 21, 1908

THE recent appearance of Booker T. Washington in Virginia in connection with the conference of the colored Baptist and the African Methodist Episcopal Church, two of the most powerful colored organizations in the country, is taken by colored political leaders to indicate that he is endeavoring to check the great anti-Taft movement prevalent among his race in the South. Washington will not enter into a discussion of politics but says that the negroes of Virginia who have been making so much ado about Senator Foraker and the Brownsville affair recently must feel a little chagrined at present, since their champion had taken to cover, which meant that their jobs were gone. Washington left Virginia for Philadelphia on Tuesday to attend the Zion conference. This conference is presided over by Bishop Walters, who is advising the negroes to support Bryan, or the democratic nominee if Taft is the republican candidate. Washington will, it is understood attempt at this conference to uplift Taft's standard.

W. D. HAYWOOD, lately on trial for his life, charged with being one of the conspirators who blew former Governor Steunenburg, of Idaho, to pieces with a dynamite contrivance, expressed his opinion of the judiciary of the United States Sunday night at Orchestra Hall in Chicago. The occasion was the ratification by the socialist-democratic party of the nomination of Debs and Hanford as presidential nominees and during his speech he said: "To h—— with the courts. To h—— with the injunctions, and to h—ll with the judges who grant them!" Haywood has reason to be angry with the judges, for though the jury acquitted him of one of the most heinous crimes ever committed, yet the trial judge said he was guilty and most of the people of the country agree with him. Men who make such speeches as did Haywood should be locked up for safe keeping.

THE popularity in which Congressman C. C. Carlin is held among the railroad men living in this city and vicinity was attested today when a committee called at this office and requested the Gazette to express publicly for them their appreciation of the many kindness he has shown them. They stated that Mr. Carlin is always ready, willing and anxious to give his time and lend his aid in all matters that come up in Congress which affect or interest them or in fact any other of his constituents; that he is polite and courteous with all who call upon him on public matters and seems to take personal interest in them all. They said they would more substantially show their gratitude to him on election day by voting solidly for his return to Congress and by urging their friends to do the same.

AFTER a conference between members of the Association of Duck Manufacturers and the selling agents from the principal cities at St. Louis last week, it was decided to close the nineteen factories making this grade of duck goods at once, and it was expected that all would follow suit. More than 25,000 employes will be made idle by this action. The cause is said to be simply the failure to sell at a profit. Still, Mr. Harriman, the railroad king, who was in Washington on Saturday said, "The country is all right; everything is normal and there is no reason why we should not have prosperity in plenty!"

THERE is nothing small about the Richmond News Leader so far as the gubernatorial nomination is concerned for in its issue of yesterday that paper editorially endorsed Stuart for governor and censured Mann. It also advised that Mr. H. St. George Tucker and Mr. Duke withdraw and lauded Representative Glass. Possibly the News Leader would do away with the State primary and make the nomination itself!

THE fight over the currency question virtually ended yesterday afternoon in an abandonment of the contest. A commission to consist of nine members of each branch of Congress, will, it is said be created, and this will be the sole accomplishment, thus giving another evidence that many of the men sent to Congress are unable to perform their duties and have to call on others to help them.

THE Gazette has been the recipient all day of many congratulations upon the issue yesterday of its industrial edition for which it expresses in return its highest appreciation.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., May 21.

The Senate today passed a bill granting pensions of $125 per month to the widows of Major Carroll and Dr. Lazear, who lost their lives by experimenting with the transmission and propagation of yellow fever by mosquitoes.

A. G. Paine, jr., of the New York and Pennsylvania Paper Company, operating a number of mills manufacturing book paper, admitted at the paper trust hearing today, that the book paper manufacturers had held repeated conferences to agree to an increase of prices.

A bill similar to one which passed the Senate yesterday, providing penalties for the transportation of passengers in foreign vessels between ports of the United States was today reported favorably from the House committee on merchant marine and fisheries.

An unqualified statement was made by a House leader today that Congress would not adjourn until next week.

Col. Thomas W. Symons, Corps of Engineers, has been selected by the president to be chief of engineers of the army to succeed Brig. Gen. Alexander Mackenzie, upon the latter's retirement for age May 25.

Washington, May 21.

SENATE.

Senator Aldrich today introduced a joint resolution creating a national monetary commission, comprising nine senators and nine representatives to investigate the financial situation and suggest currency legislation. This resolution will take the place of all the financial legislation contemplated by the Aldrich and Vreeland bills at this session.

Mr. Aldrich announced that the conferees on the currency bill are unable to agree, but all are unanimously in favor of the monetary commission. The resolution was adopted without debate.

In reporting the general deficiency appropriation bill, the last of the big supply measures, to the Senate today Senator Hale announced his intention of taking it up for consideration and passage before adjournment this afternoon. The Senate committee added $1,046,488 to the bill making the total appropriation carried by it $18,384,811. The largest item added by the Senate $457,363 for pay of the navy. For the payment of a number of audited claims $264,375 is added; for salaries of district attorneys in Oklahoma $10,000; claims for property taken from Confederate officers $20,000, and payment to the state of Texas $21,395.

The military academy appropriation bill was reported carrying a total appropriation of $914,967, an increase of $89,129 over the amount as passed by the House. Of this increase $60,000 is to provide for the increased pay of the cadets.

Senator Beveridge today complained that the committee on agriculture has not acted on his bill compelling meat concerns to place the date of packing on the can. He spoke at some length regarding the importance of the measure and the necessity for such legislation. He moved that the committee be discharged from further consideration of the bill. This motion went over till tomorrow.

Senator Owen introduced resolutions looking to an investigation of the alleged discriminations of the Post Office and Department of Justice against the Uncle Sam Oil Company, of Oklahoma.

When the Rayner resolution expressing the sense of the Senate that Col. W. F. Stewart, of the Coast Artillery, should be given a court of inquiry, came up Mr. Warren moved its reference to the committee on military affairs.

Mr. Warren denied that his committee has been slow in taking the case up and said all the necessary papers have not yet been received.

HOUSE.

The House today agreed to the conference report on the agricultural appropriation bill. As the bill goes to the president for signature, it carries one provision for the investigation of destruction of turpentine and resin and another 25 per cent. of the receipt of forest reserves shall go to the State in which the reserve is located for schools.

Universal transfers from the lines of one street car company to another embroiled the House into a typical council meeting fuss.

Mr. Landis pleaded for legislation for the extension of tracks to the new union station so "the 100,000 republicans that come to the next inauguration will not have to walk to the station."

Mr. Sims replied that the democrats would be so pleased when they come here next March to inaugurate W. J. Bryan that they would not care whether there is a street car in Washington or not, so long as the sky above is unobstructed.

By 164 to 122 the House defeated the universal transfer propcsition. This was done by agreeing to a conference report on street railway legislation.

Student Shot.

New York, May 21.—Edgar H. Cook, the Columbia University freshman, who was shot last night while fleeing from a policeman after a student prank, will be operated on today. Doctors located the bullet and say that if young Cook is strong enough he will have a slight chance of recovery. Howard T. Cole, of Brewester, N. Y., Cook's classmate and companion in the prank, stopped when the officer commanded and thus escaped Cook's fate. The police department say Patrolman Hurton, who shot Cook, acted wholly within his duties. He fired into the air twice before finally aiming at the fleeing student. The offense of the student was in tearing a sign from a lunch stand.

The directors of the Virginia State Fair Association have elected the following officers for the ensuing year. President, Henry C. Stuart; vice president, John Stewart Bryan; treasurer, O. J. Sands; secretary, M. A. Chambers; assistant secretary and general manager, Mask R. Lloyd.

News of the Day.

Col. James M. Guffey yesterday dominated the Pennsylvania democratic convention, preventing instructions for Bryan.

The forty-eighth annual meeting of the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church opened at Greensboro, N. C., today.

Three prominent senators are ill and unable to be present at the closing days of the session. They are Senators Elkins of West Virginia, Foraker of Ohio, and La Follette of Wisconsin.

Army circles in San Francisco are excited over the mysterious disappearance of Captain Samuel D. McAllister, of the 38th Coast Artillery, from the Presidio. No cause for his disappearance is known.

President Roosevelt has signed the bill directing the restoration to gold and silver coins of the motto "In God We Trust," ordered by him stricken from the gold coins some months ago on the ground that the law did not authorize its use.

Richmond was visited yesterday afternoon by the worst storm for several years. The storm was accompanied by thunder and lightning, being the first electric storm of the present summer. The tremendous fall of rain was accompanied by hail.

President Clark Bell, of the Medico-Legal Society of Greater New York, believes William H. Marsh, the rich Flatbush manufacturer did not die of hydrophobia, but succumbed to opiates administered to relieve his supposed sufferings. The Brooklyn health department refused a burial permit this afternoon. An autopsy will be made.

George Martin, living near Hancock, fifty miles east of Cumberland, Md., was killed yesterday by lightning while sitting under an apple tree. When the storm came up his two companions went into the house near by. Martin said he would stay where he was, and wished the Lord would strike him with lightning. A few minutes later lightning shattered the tree, killing him instantly. He was thirty-five years old, and had somewhat of a reputation as a local preacher.

Because his four-year-old sister refused to get up out of bed when he called her, eight-year-old Andy Pfeifer, son of a Wheeling Creek, W. Va., miner, yesterday morning placed the muzzle of a shotgun in the little one's mouth and fired. The mother of the children was in the yard at the time of the occurrence, and she fainted at the sight that met her gaze when she ran into the house. The boy says he did not know the gun was loaded, but simply wanted to scare his sister.

The Protestant Episcopal Diocesan Convention of Maryland yesterday decided to elect a co-adjutor bishop as an assistant to Bishop Paret, who is 82 years old, and to build a cathedral in Baltimore. The election was postponed till next October. Those most prominently mentioned for the place of assistant bishop are Rev. John Gardner Murray, of St. Michael and All Angels' Church; Rev. Edward B. Niver, of Christ Church; Rev. A. B. Kinsolving, of St. Paul's Church, and Rev. Robert S. Coupland, of the Church of the Ascension.

The knell of currency legislation, so far as the present session of Congress is concerned, was sounded late yesterday afternoon, when the conferees on the part of the Senate and House failed to agree. But this does not necessarily mean that the Aldrich bill shall not rise again. The Vreeland bill as amended by the Aldrich substitute is to sleep in the Senate finance committee and a currency commission is recommended in its stead by the conferees. Senator Aldrich will today offer a bill to create a currency commission and an effort will be made to rush it through both Houses of Congress. There will probably be no opposition to this procedure.

Virginia News.

The new bishops of the African Methodist Episcopal Church were ordained at Norfolk yesterday.

The proceedings against the Southern Railway for promulgating a higher classification on canned goods than other railroads in Virginia were dismissed by the Corporation Commission in Richmond yesterday.

With scarcely a dissenting voice, the democratic State convention at Columbia, S. C., yesterday adopted a resolution instructing the eighteen delegates from South Carolina to vote first, last, and all the time for William J. Bryan as the nominee of the democatic party at the Denver convention.

Fire in Norfolk last night burned out the upper floors of the building 76 Commercial Place and destroyed the stock of Samuel W. Steel, wholesale dealer in notions. The Commerical Bank occupies the ground floor of the building. That suffered little. Steel's loss is $25,000, with but little insurance. The damage to the building is $10,000.

The republicans of the House of Representatives, in a conference held last night for that purpose, spent three hours in a discussion as to the advisability of passing an anti-injunction measure at this session. While no conclusion was reached, the conference, adjourning to meet again tonight, all indications point to the adoption of a bill which may pass the House, but which will stand less chance of going through the Senate.

Mr. George G. Ott died in Washington after a long illness, yesterday morning. Mr. Ott was born in Woodstock, in 1842. He was a glove manufacturer, and at the beginning of the civil war entered the Confederate army and served under Gen. T. J. (Stonewall) Jackson. After the war he continued his trade for some time at Woodstock, removing to Washington in 1887. For the last eight years he had been a watchman for the Washington Loan and Trust Company. He leaves a widow and four children.

Frenzied By Overstudy.

New York, May 21.—Frenzied by overstudy, 19-year-old Jacob Kolchinsky attacked his parents, brother and three young sisters with a hat pin today, and after being overpowered by the combined efforts of his father, several neighbors and a policeman, he tried to beat out his brains against the iron door of a cell in the Bedford avenue police station. Jacob had been trying to earn a Cornell scholarship and studying almost constantly. Loss of food and sleep affected him so seriously that his reason left him suddenly and, seizing the hat pin, began an attack on the family.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH DIOCESE OF VIRGINIA.

(113th Annual Council.)
Fredericksburg, Va., May 20, 1908.

FIRST DAY

MORNING SESSION.

The 113th annual council of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Virginia convened in St. George's Church and opened with the celebration of the holy communion by Bishop Gibson and Rev. E. L. Goodwin, of Fairfax, Fairfax county, Virginia.

The council sermon was preached by Rev. W. O. Smith, of Winchester, Virginia, from Acts 11:26, "And the disciples were called christians first in Antioch." Other clergy in the chancel were Revs. Robert A. Goodwin, John Moncure, D. D., and Rev. Dr. McBryde, rector of St. George's Church.

The council met for business shortly after the conclusion of the communion service with 53 clerical and 36 lay delegates present. The council was then declared to be regularly organized and proceeded to business. The regular committees of the council were appointed by the bishop. The committee on church property reported that the Episcopal residence is now paid for and is now the property of the diocese.

Certain routine reports of committees were handed in after which the bishop read the portion of his annual address pertaining to his visitations and other special work during the past year.

During the past year 3 postulants for orders were received, 8 deacons and 1 priest were ordained; letters dismissory given to 8 clergy leaving the diocese; 7 clergy received into the diocese and there were 6 clerical changes within the diocese. Two churches were consecrated during the year. The bishop referred in sympathetic and appreciative words to the noble work of Rev. George S. Somerville at Haymarket and Falls Church, whose death took place on Ash Wednesday last at Clifton Springs, N. Y., where he had gone for treatment. He was buried at old Falls Church Bishop Gibson and other clergy officiating. The bishop's visitations were 91, and confirmations 660 in number.

SECOND SESSION.

The council met at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday evening with the bishop in the chair. Rev. L. R. Mason gave notice that he would move for a change on Canon VIII affecting the raising of the contingent fund. This matter is to come up on Thursday evening at 3:30 o'clock. The change suggested is to raise the contingent fund by assessment and not by collections at the rate of $1 per communicant. It was moved by Rev. H. B. Lee that article VIII of the constitution be amended so as to read that a secretary be elected annually by the council.

The report of Miss Sarah Stuart, the diocesan secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary, was read by Rev. W. J. Morton, of Christ Church, Alexandria.

The attention of the church was called to the tercentenary of the founding of the Episcopal Church in Virginia.

The annual meeting of the auxiliary held in Charlottesville last fall, was an inspiring one, and added enthusiasm for missions by the addresses of Bishops Spalding and Knight, with an address on diocesan missions by Bishop Gibson.

The following is a summary of the report:

Total offerings:—Woman's Auxiliary, Diocese of Virginia, $9,513 22; Junior Auxiliary, $1,692 52; Babies' Branch, $186.75; grand total $11,342 49. An interesting report was made by the registrar and historiographer of the diocese, Rev. E. L. Goodwin, of Fairfax. It was proposed that as the Virginia Bible Society has been merged in the American Bible Society, the Diocesan Prayer Book Distribution Society also undertake the distribution of Bibles, and be called the Bible Prayer Book Distribution Society in the diocese of Virginia, its object being the free distribution of Bibles, prayer books and hymnals within the diocese.

The report of the Virginia Female Institute at Staunton, now called Stuart Hall, showed that institution to be in a flourishing condition.

Professor Massie moved that a committee of five be appointed to investigate what relations exist between the General Clergy Relief Society and the various societies within this diocese having the same object in view, and that the officers of the diocesan societies be requested to furnish necessary information to aid the committee in its work. Rev. Drs. Massie, T. C. Darst, J. W. Ware and Messrs. James Oakie and Judge Carter Scott were appointed a committee to report at the next council. The council then adjourned to meet at eight o'clock tonight for the meeting of the Diocesan Missionary Society.

THE METHODISTS.

Two ballots for the eight bishops to be elected by the Methodist Episcopal General Conference were taken yesterday in Baltimore. On the first ballot no candidate received the two-thirds vote necessary to elect, but Rev. Dr. William F. Anderson was first. On the second ballot, it is believed, Rev. Dr. Anderson was elected.

Two more ballots will be taken today, and the balloting will continue until the eight bishops are chosen.

Laymen held a mass meeting at the Lyric last night and declared the business part of Methodism should be vested in them.

An effort is being made to have the general conference advocate woman preachers.

A start to unite all Methodist bodies throughout America was begun yesterday by the Methodist Protestant Conference in session in Pittsburg, when it ordered printed the report of the committee on church union authorizing that a commission of nine be appointed to confer with a like commission from the Methodist Episcopal General Conference, north and south, with a view of amalgamating the two bodies, which have been separated for 80 years.

The conference rejected the proposal to unite with Congregationalist Church, deeming it advisable to send back the act of union proposed, but empowered the commission to meet with a like commission from the United Brethren Church to discuss the question of union and report to the next general conference.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Killed in Railroad Accident.

Antwerp, May 21.—Fifteen were killed and 33 injured in a collision between two passenger trains near here today. It is expected that the death list will reach 20. The collision was due to a mistake in signals.

The scene of the collision was at Contich, six miles southeast of here. Twenty-two bodies have already been taken from the ruins and 60 injured, many of them fatally, are being cared for.

The collision was between a train bound for Brussels and one en route for Lierre. Three coaches on the latter were smashed to kindling wood. The accident occurred at a crossing.

Accurate information concerning the number of killed and injured is yet unattainable, owing to the difficulty in dragging the victims from the mountain of twisted iron and steel splintered wood.

Antwerp, May 21.—Latest reports from the scene of the Contich railroad wreck are that sixty persons were killed and 100 injured, many of whom will die.

ANOTHER DISPATCH.

Antwerp, May 21.—Between fifty and sixty persons were killed and more than 100 injured in a crossing collision at Contich, six miles southeast of here, today between trains bound respectively for Brussels and Lierre.

The Antwerp train was running fifty miles an hour at the time and shifted to the wrong direction by a misplaced switch, struck the other, smashing two of its three coaches to atoms and hurling passengers high in the air and dozens of yards in every direction.

Not one of those of either of the two coaches escaped serious injuries or death.

The debris of the cars was piled higher than the stack of the Antwerp locomotive, which is almost concealed under the mountain of splintered metal and wood.

The demolished engine, at the bottom of the pile of debris spouted steam like a volcano, scalding many of the victims until the flesh dropped from their bones as they were lifted out.

Miss Wood in the Tombs.

New York, May 21.—Justice O'Gorman is expected to render his decision today in the case of Senator Thomas C. Platt, who is being sued for divorce by Mae C. Wood, who alleges she was married to Platt in the old Fifth Avenue Hotel in November, 1901. The only evidence yet to be heard is the rebuttal of the plaintiff and neither this nor the summing up of the evidence by Justice O'Gorman is expected to take long. James B. Stanchfield, who is conducting the case for Platt, is confident that a decision to the effect that there was no marriage will be given and that Miss Wood's attempt at alimony will be thus frustrated.

New York, May 21.—Judge O'Gorman this afternoon found for the defense and committed Miss Wood to the Tombs in default of $5,000 bail on a charge of perjury in her suit for divorce from Senator Platt.

Bridge Dynamited.

New York, May 21.—At an early hour today dynamiters wrecked the southern end of the eighty-foot steel span of the City Island Road at Bay Chester. The explosion, the bridge company declares, is the result of the employment of non-union labor. Many windows in Bay Chester were broken by the explosion and persons were thrown from their beds. The work was evidently done by persons acquainted with bridge construction for the dynamite was placed where it would do the most possible harm. The police believe there is a connection between the explosion today and the attempt yesterday to blow up the new Scharzen Bascule bridge over the Bronx river. Both bridges are part of the improvement work of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

Peace Conference.

Lake Mohonk, N. Y., May 21.—That substantial progress is being made toward an era of universal peace was the opinion expressed in a letter from British Ambassador James Bryce read at the peace conference here today. The ambassador voiced the hope that the American press will cease agitation of the questions settled by the new treaties between the United States, Japan, Mexico and other powers. Speeches are on the programme for the day from the Rev. Walter Walsh, of Dundee, Scotland; former Gov. McLane, of New Hampshire; Chester Holcombe, of the Chinese Embassy, the Rev. Charles F. Dole, of Boston and President Rush Rhees, of Rochester University.

The Situation in Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., May 21.—Arbitration of Cleveland's street car strike is hoped for during the day.

A car was dynamited on the Wade Park line today and three persons were injured. One other car was dynamited last night and a number of minor cases of violence are reported. Two men alleged to have been caught in the act of placing a dynamite bomb on the track are under arrest.

A mass meeting of the committee last night decided to order all union men off the cars until the strike is settled. Financial support was also pledged to the strikers.

Says Mrs. Gunness is Alive.

Laporte, Ind., May 21.—In spite of the evidence to show that she died in the fire which destroyed her home, Mrs. Belle Gunness was alive on May 4, a week after the fire, according to a letter received by Mayor Darrow today from a man who knew the woman well. The letter was sent from Omaha, Neb., and was signed "Samuel Harvey." The writer says he visited Mrs. Gunness three times, in May, June and August, 1907. On May 4, Harvey says, he saw and talked with Mrs. Gunness in the depot at Ogden, Utah. At first, he says, she tried to conceal her identity, but finally admitted it and said she was going to California.

Murdered and Robbed.

Chicago, May 21.—The body of R. C. P. Holmes, purchasing agent of the Commonwealth Electric Company, was found in a down town alley early today. He had been murdered and robbed. His skull was fractured and his throat indicated that he had been choked. The pockets of the clothing were turned inside out. The body showed that there had been a desperate struggle, as both of the eyes were blackened and besides the fractured of the skull the whole body was covered with bruises. Holmes's watch and all his valuables and money were gone.

Another Suffragette Demonstration.

London, May 21.—Downing street was the scene of another outbreak by the suffragettes today. For an hour or more several hundred of them rioted around the office of Premier Asquith and up and down Downing and adjacent streets. The police charged the crowd and made free use of their clubs. The women and many sympathizers jeered the police and fought them, but not until six arrests had been made and many of the rioters clubbed into submission were the police able to disperse the crowd. Even then the women marched off defiant. Today's trouble arose over Premier Asquith's refusal to make reply to a petition that was sent in to him. The suffragettes waited a reasonable time for an answer, but when it was seen that the premier would ignore them they began the disturbance. The suffragettes think Asquith is merely putting them off with the statement that the government will not oppose an amendment giving women the right to vote if such is included in the electoral reform bill to be introduced by the federal government.

CONGRESSIONAL.

In the Senate yesterday the omnibus public buildings bill was passed, with District items as reported from the committee intact, provision for a park on Georgetown Heights being added. The public building bill as passed, carries a total of $35,000,000.

The conferees on the emergency bills decided that an agreement at this time is impossible.

The report of the conferees on the navy yard track bill was agreed to.

The conference report on the fortifications bill was submitted and accepted.

A bill was passed providing for a road from the Anacostia river through the Government Insane Asylum grounds.

The sundry civil bill conferees submitted a partial report, and were authorized to persist in their insistence upon certain amendments in disagreement.

A bill to prevent the desecration of the American flag was passed.

Four treaties, two relating to copyrights, being with Japan, were ratified in executive session.

By a vote of 157 to 82, with 35 present or not voting, the House adopted the report of the special committee which investigated the charges of Representative George L. Lilley, of Connecticut, in reference to the alleged use of corrupt legislative methods by the Electric Boat Company, builders of submarines torpedo boats. That Representative Lilley was not warranted in bringing charges against certain of his colleagues is the conclusion of the special committee in the Electric Torpedo-boat Company investigation. There is talk of expelling Mr. Lilley from the House.

The partial report on the sundry civil appropriation bill was agreed to and the conferees instructed not to yield on the amendments still in disagreement.

The conference report on the Union station track bill was submitted and will be taken up today.

The House will meet today at 11 o'clock.

RED MEN.

The sixty-second annual convention of the Great Council of Virginia of Red Men convened in Lynchburg yesterday with about 200 members from all parts of Virginia.

The opening session was preceded by an open session in which addresses of welcome and responses and music by local talent predominated. The council attended to a large amount of routine work at the two day sessions, and last night the local lodges entertained the visitors. C. S. Wells, of Manchester, grand keeper of records, has declined re-election, and there is a hot fight on for the position. The election will take place today. The council will adjourn today.

Delay in completing the print paper investigation at Washington makes it improbable that Congress would receive the committee's report in time for action at the present action.

ANOTHER INVESTIGATION.

As had been anticipated, the government authorities have entered into an investigation of the circumstances in connection with the sinking of the steamer Trenton at this port on the morning of the 3rd instant. A board of inquiry composed of Edward F. White and Charles W. Wright, of the Baltimore inspection bureau, met in the custom house in this city this morning. They will report their findings to George Uhler, supervisor of the steamboat inspection service.

The proceedings this morning were in reference to the charges against Capt W. L. Davis, who, it is alleged, was guilty of negligence and inattention in connection with the sinking of the steamer in violation of the United States statutes. The accused was represented by Attorney Luther B. Dow, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Attorney O. W. Warwick, of Baltimore.

President Taylor, of the company owning the Trenton, and who is a witness, desired to be put upon the stand first, but this privilege was denied him, and he left the room.

It was ordered that the steamer be detained at her wharf until Monday.

After the charges against Capt. Davis had been read, D. Maury Posey, father of the child which was drowned by the sinking of the steamer, was placed upon the stand.

Joseph Williams, colored, who admitted that he left the port holes open, and who has been locked up in the station house since yesterday, was taken before the examiners this evening to give testimony as to the accident.

All the witnesses who were before the Coroner's jury have been summoned, and it is thought the investigation will not be concluded until some time tomorrow.

Charges have also been made against Mate James Beach and the engineer of the steamer.

The findings will not be made public, but will be transmitted to Mr. Uhler at Baltimore, and it may be some time before the result is announced.

CITY DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE.

A meeting of the city democratic committee was held last night in the Opera House Cafe. Mr. Charles Bendheim, the chairman, presided, and Messrs R. T. Cook, Louis Brill, S. G. Brent and S. P. Fisher were present.

The final arrangements for the approaching primary election were perfected.

The following were declared the delegates to the Roanoke convention:

First ward, J. M. Hill and T. B. Murphy; Second ward, Thomas A. Fisher and C. C. Carlin; Third ward, S. G. Brent, James R. Caton and S. P. Fisher; Fourth ward, Gardner L. Boothe and Charles Bendheim.

Alexandria is entitled to seven votes in the convention, and inasmuch as nine delegates presented their names they were declared the delegates and the voting strength of each will be prorated in the convention.

The name of Leo P. Harlow, of the Second ward, which had been submitted, was withdrawn at that gentleman's request.

It was agreed that each delegate should be empowered to appoint an alternate should he find it impossible to attend the convention.

The committee was in session but a short time.

CHOCOLATE PARTY.

A chocolate party was given to Miss Nellie Baker at her residence, 714 King street last night. Among the guests present were: Misses Rose Connelly, May Rafferty, Alice Hallenger, Elizabeth Jones, Rose Summers and sisters, Florence Eisenger, Laura Davenport; Messrs Melvin Leakin, William Linton, R. English, S. Streb, W. Buck, H. Emmett, W. Brooks and brother, W. Athey, P. Halloway, R. Schwab, H. Roades, A. Scott and brother, E. Eisenger, H. Connelly, C. Hades, W. Willey and brother of Washington; Misses Bessie Everett and sisters, Lillian Schwab, Margaret Lucas, Florence Shinn, Virgie Hughes, Katie Fones, Bessie Davis, Nettie Harding, Edith Padgett, Virginia Bardey, Rubie Ticer, Pauline Dolan, Julia Ouddon; Messrs. R. Woolf, D. Brown, M. Haynes, E. Emerson, J. Cumberland, G. Hiram Tyler, E. Grove, A. Meeks, B. Arnold, F. Mudd, J. Curtin, W. Wood, J. Waddy, F. Fones, H. Beach, J. Baker, C. Lucas, F. DeVaughn, James Cook. A most enjoyable evening was spent with many games and music.

DELINQUENT FINED.

Two citizens were before the Police Court this morning charged with failing to tap sewers. One of the accused, who had been notified six months ago to make connection, was fined $2 and told he would be fined that amount every day until the work is done. The other delinquent was given ten days in which to make connection. The names of several residents of King street were given to the court by the police and they will be cited to show cause why they should not be fined for failing to make connection, as provided by law.

FISHERIES INSPECTED.

Secretary Straus, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, and Mrs. Straus, the Secretary to the President and Mrs. Leob, and Dr. Charles P. Neill and Mrs. Neill left Washington yesterday for a short trip down the Potomac river as the guests of G. M. Bowers, commissioner of fisheries. They inspected the fisheries station at Brians Point, participated in a planked-shad dinner, and returned to Washington this morning.

THE DANCE AT LUNA PARK.

The dancing club of Alexandria Lodge of Elks gave a dance in the pavilion at Luna Park last night. The grounds were brilliantly lighted for the occasion, and the affair was a success. A large crowd was in attendance, and it was past midnight when the party returned to their homes in this city.

There was another slide in the railway embankment over Hooff's run last night.

OPERA OF FATINITZA.

By reference to an advertisement elsewhere, it will be seen that the Ogden-Crane Opera Company will appear in this city for one night in the comic opera Fatinitza. The performance will be given under the auspices and for the benefit of the Reliance Fire Co., and while the proceeds will assist in the financial improvement of the organization the committee having the affair in charge have not been influenced by the thought of monetary gain entirely, but realize that for the moral betterment of the company as well as catering to the tastes of a critical public, it has become necessary to bring before them at a very great expense a production highly endorsed by leading dramatic and musical critics in the eastern section of the country and one which has received a most liberal and influential patronage. It has been well said that this is a magnanimous undertaking on the part of the gentlemen and the ladies who have consented to lend their support, and should receive most liberal encouragement from the opera loving people of our city.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of last night:

Four young men, charged with disorderly conduct in an eating house, were dismissed.

A white man, charged with cruelty to a horse, had his case continued.

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Dennis Napper, colored, charged with being drunk in the street, was fined $5.

Andrew Dancey, colored, charged with destroying property, was fined $5.

Seven men, four white and three colored, charged with trespassing upon the property of the Southern Railway, were fined $5 each. A colored man, who had been arrested with the party, was dismissed.

A resident of King street, charged with failing to tap a sewer, was fined $2.

A resident of south Washington street, charged with a similar offense, was given ten days in which to make the connection.

RECEPTION.

A delightful reception was last evening tendered Mrs. H. C. Bolton, of Washington, by the Girls' Friendly Society of Christ Church at the Parish Hall. The hall was attractively decorated and the musical programme rendered by the girls was most enjoyable. Mrs. Bolton is president of the Girls' Friendly Society of the diocese of Washington, and her work and influence for years have been far reaching. Her address to the girls and their guests last evening was most inspiring. Later dainty refreshments were served.

ARREST OF TRESPASSERS.

Special Agents Pankey and Harlan last night arrested eight men—four white and four colored—for trespassing upon Southern Railway property a short distance west of this city. They were placed in the station house and this morning were brought before the Police Court. One of the colored prisoners was released. The others were fined $5 each or given 20 days on the chain gang. One of the white men had twelve new razors in his possession.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL AND CONCERT POSTPONED.

Owing to the uncertain weather the lawn party and festival that was to have been given for the benefit of the Children's Home at the residence of Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett has been postponed until the first of next week. Money will be returned to those holding tickets or they may be reserved for next week. Notice of date will appear in the Gazette.

BOAT CLUB.

The crew of the Old Dominion Boat Club, which will participate in the American Henley regatta, to be rowed at Philadelphia Saturday, will leave here Friday night. They will be accompanied by E. H. Kemper, president, several members of the club, and Coach Hecox. The members of the crew are J. S. Douglas, Jos. Richardson, C. D. Barrett and Edward Fawcett.

FINE IMPOSED.

Determined to see that its orders are respected by the public service corporations doing business in Virginia, the State Corporation Commission yesterday imposed a fine of $500 upon the Baltimore and Ohio Railway Company for failing to put into effect a through daily passenger train service in conjunction with the Southern between the city of Alexandria and the town of Lexington.

Balloonists Injured.

Madrid, May 21.—Captain Cortada, the balloonist reported lost in the Pyrenees, but found later in a peasant hut in the village of Quinto, whither he had been carried following a bad tumble from the basket, proves more seriously injured than at first supposed. Physicians fear his spine has been broken and that he will be bedridden for life.

VASELINE NO GOOD FOR HAIR.

Dandruff Germ Thrives in It, As Well as in All Grease.

A well known Chicago hair specialist invited the Inter-Ocean reporter to come to his office and see, under a microscope, how the germ that causes dandruff thrives in veseline. The specialist said that all hair preparations containing grease, simply furnish food for the germs and help to propagate them. The only way to cure dandruff is to destroy the germs, and the only hair preparation that will do that is Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Without dandruff no falling hair, no baldness. Ask for Herpicide. It is the only destroyer of the dandruff germ.

Sold by Ernest L. Allen & Co., agents. Two sizes 50c and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. 157

Nan and the Bucket.

There is one particular fever of nonsense which the Princeton Tiger claims the credit of having originated, for in the November issue, 1902, appeared the following verse:

There once was a man from Nantucket
Who kept all his cash in a bucket,
But his daughter, named Nan,
Ran away with a man,
And as for the bucket—Nantucket.

For the next few months Nan, her father and her newly acquired husband encountered a series of the most astonishing adventures in every known hamlet in the country which could be converted into limerick form by the brains of newspaper and magazine writers from sea to sea. By the time Nan came back with a dozen or so additional verses tacked on to her there is reason to wonder in the face of the ordeals to which she had been subjected whether the pecuniary advantage gained by absconding with that bucket repaid her for all that she had been through.—Roy S. Durstine in Bohemian Magazine.

How He Saved Money.

A country politician in Pennsylvania managed to get elected to the legislature at Harrisburg for one term. When he came back he built himself a fine house, costing about $20,000. His old neighbors, who knew he had no money before he went to Harrisburg and who knew the salary of a Pennsylvania legislator, were curious to discover where the returned statesman got means to build the house. So one day a committee waited on the man who built the house, and the spokesman said:

"Jim, it may be none of our business to your thinking, but we think you owe it to us who sent you to the legislature to explain where you got the money with which you built this house. You didn't have a cent before you went to Harrisburg and owed everybody in the place. How about it?"

"Why," said the builder, "it's simple enough. You see, when we were in Harrisburg we didn't keep a hired girl."—Argonaut.

Freaks of the Sea.

The freaks of the sea are the anglers and bat fishes. The people of North Carolina have aptly named the angler the allmouth, for the tail begins where the mouth ends. Inhabiting the north Atlantic, the angler has been given a variety of names. On the Massachusetts coast it is known as goosefish. Rhode Island terms it bellowfish, and Connecticut gives it the cognomen of molligut. Jamaica bay calls it the carpetbagger. England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales all have their local names. The names of the English give to this one fish are expressive of its habits, to say the least. They call it toadfish, frog, fishing frog, devilfish, sea devil, nassfish, monkfish, pocketfish, widegut, kettlemaw and widegap. Thomas Pennant, who in 1776 wrote his "British Zoology," did not like the name of fishing frog, then applied to the fish, so he "changed the old name of fishing frog for the more simple one of angler."

The Way of Humanity.

Human nature is kind and generous, but it is narrow and blind and can only with difficulty conceive anything but what it immediately sees and feels. People would instantly care for others as well as themselves if only they could imagine others as well as themselves. Let a child fall into a river before the roughest man's eyes—he will usually do what he can to get it out, even at some risk to himself, and all the town will triumph in the saving of one little life. Let the same man be shown that hundreds of children are dying of fever for want of some sanitary measures which it will cost him trouble to urge, and he will make no effort, and probably all the town would resist him if he did.—Ruskin.

On the Other Side.

A British soldier out walking with his son saw an old blind beggar with the inscription on his chest, "I Fought at Waterloo."

The soldier said, with deep feeling:

"Give him something. He helped to save your country."

The child dropped some silver into the beggar's cap, and the old man gratefully replied:

"Merci bien, monsieur!"—London Post.

Twain Wasn't Well.

At a dinner to which Mark Twain was invited his name was associated with the toast of "Literature" by an orator, who referred with great eloquence to Homer, Shakespeare, Milton and—Mark Twain. In response the humorist thanked the speaker for his kindly references and excused himself from making a longer speech by saying, "Homer is dead, Shakespeare and Milton are no more, and I—I don't feel very well myself!"

The French Tramp.

The vagabond who is kin to the wolf is a special product of civilization. You do not meet him in England or Germany, though something like him exists among the half yellow Slavs of Russia. He is eminently Latin. In every sense of the word he is a rebel against society. He has had some education—few Frenchmen can escape it. He has read a little, perhaps enough to kindle his brain of a wolf, and he has two aims in life—to live the free life of the wolf on the hill and to injure as much as he can that great, monstrous, law driven machine, civilization. The lonely farmhouses are defenseless against him. When all are busy afield he creeps in and pillages. If need be he kills. He has a distinct hatred for those who work and garner. As he passes he fires the hayricks—barns and buildings go up in smoke. That is where the Latin shows in him. Once out of the law he is an anarch. So long as he is cross tied in innumerable acts of parliament the Latin is merry and amiable. When the ropes are off he makes revolution—or fires hayricks.—Vance Thompson in Outing Magazine.

Gave It in Full.

An old Scottish minister took it into his head to marry his housekeeper. His precentor being ill on the day when the banns were to be proclaimed, the minister, not caring to make the intimation himself, arranged with his herd boy to do it. "Now," he said, "you just call out in a loud voice, 'Proclamation of marriage between the Rev. Mr. Murray of this parish and Jean Lowe o' the same!' Ha, ha!" laughed the minister as he concluded. "Wha'd hae thocht it?" The Sabbath came round, and the congregation assembled. When the moment arrived the lad, who had duly prepared himself, rose and called out: "Proclamation of marriage between the Rev. Mr. Murray of this parish and Jean Lowe o' the same! Ha, ha!" he laughed, thinking this to be a part of the proclamation. "Wha'd hae thocht it?" The effect on the minister and the congregation can be imagined.

Two Waterloos.

It is a very curious fact that a good many people do not know that two battles were fought at Waterloo. Both of these were fought against the French, the first under the command of the Duke of Marlborough on Aug 17, 1705, who on this date actually occupied the same ground as the Duke of Wellington did a little more than a century later, June 17, 1815, the only difference being that the former was marching on Brussels and the latter was marching from Brussels. In the first battle the French were defending Brussels. They marched out to meet Marlborough, but owing to the slackness on the part of Schlangenburg, the Dutch general, who was fighting with him, it was not a success, Marlborough only taking a few of the French troops as prisoners. The following one, fought against Napoleon by Wellington, proved to be one of the greatest victories ever recorded in the annals of England.

Couldn't Be Divided.

In Felix Moscheles' "Fragments of an Autobiography" occurs the following: Mme. Schumann was wanted to play at a little musical reunion, but she did not respond. Mr. Moscheles was deputed to approach her. "Was she inclined to play?"

"Particularly disinclined," was the discouraging response.

The envoy tried again and mentioned her husband's "Carnaval." "One part I particularly love, the 'March of the Davidsbundler.' If I could only hear you play just that page or two!"

This roused her. "Page or two, indeed!" she cried. "Wenn man de 'Carnaval' spielt, spielt man ihn ganz." (When one plays the "Carnaval," one must play it all.) And she played the whole.

They Must Be Hardy.

An official of the department of agriculture referred at a dinner in Washington to the amateur florists who spring up in the suburbs every spring by thousands.

"More florists perhaps than flowers spring up," he said.

"In a seed shop one day I heard one of these amateurs complain about the last batch of seeds he had bought. After he had ended his complaint he began to ask floral questions.

"'Oh, by the way,' he said, 'what is a hardy rose?'

"'It is one,' growled the dealer, 'that doesn't mind your wife pulling it up by the roots every day to see if it has begun to grow yet.'"

Respect More Essential Than Love.

The most essential thing in marriage is respect. It is above love, above compatibility, above even the priceless sense of humor. Respect will make even the "appalling intimacy" endurable and will bring one through the most trying disagreements with no bruise on the soul, whatever wounds there may be in the heart. Therefore, men and women, never, never marry any one you don't really respect, however passionately you may love.—Grand Magazine.

"So much the worse for men who deliberately choose solitary confinement," remarked the girl who had her trap set.—Bohemian Magazine.
